London IT Services Firm Expands

Next Dimension, southwestern Ontario's largest independent IT service provider, is entering a new era, as their expansion into the London market continues with the addition of several new staff and the acquisition of 4,200 sq ft of office space in London's downtown core.

In addition to the new location, Next Dimension has recently entered into an agreement with Paul Lambert from PC Consulting. Paul, President of PC Consulting, has over 20 years IT experience. "Paul's background is an amazing complement to what our vision is for Next Dimension" says Andrew Lozier, Vice President at Next Dimension. "His extensive experience with Enterprise Resource Planning (ERP), Customer Relationship Management (CRM) and Accounting Software will bring a tremendous benefit to our customers" continues Lozier.

We also want to welcome Philip Hargreaves, Adam Fisk, Brent Hughes, Jason Prescott, Rob Cunha, Nathan Gilmour, and Jason Hamilton as new additions to our team!

The new additions will allow Next Dimension to provide an even greater depth of IT services to their clients in London and surrounding areas. The company also has plans for continual growth with expectations of at least 10 additional hires within the next 2 years.

About Next Dimension

Founded in 1997, Next Dimension is the provider of choice for clients looking to maximize/optimize the return on their IT investment. As the area's largest independent IT services company, Next Dimension has built its reputation on a heritage of delivery excellence, industry knowledge, and a strong technical infrastructure which is largely a reflection on the quality and expertise of its people.
